

Dinomonster

Once upon a time there lived a monster named Dinomonster. It is half dinosaur and the other half is monster. It has huge claws and teeth. And he likes only his friend.

Deep down in the woods there lived the Dinomonster. It smells very weird. And his house is made out of sticks.

One day he was hunting for food.
He got something. He came back to his house. And after he ate his food he got a hole in his roof. He felt mad.

He got some supplies and he fixed it. So there were no more leeks that day. He was happy.

The End

