

Once there was a monster named Bailey. He lived in a haunted hotel it had spider webs and spiders. He was scary. Bailey had hairy eye brows.

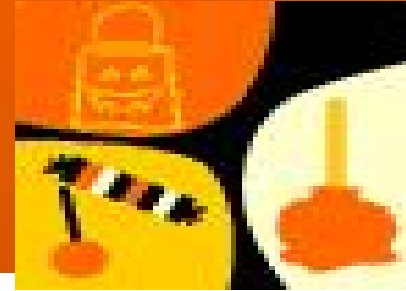

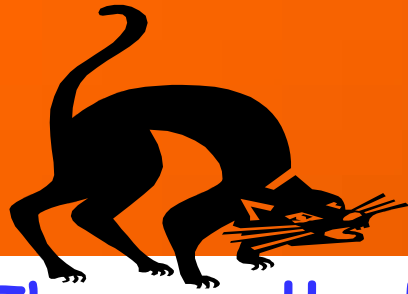

The haunted hotel smell's like goop.
It has a grave yard. It is spooky.

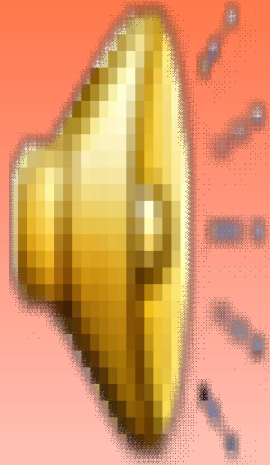

He cast a spell. And was braking everything. And he was eating all the food. And everybody turned in to monster's. They where mad about being monster's.

They called some people and they broke the spell. And fixed everything.

The end

