

Dracula

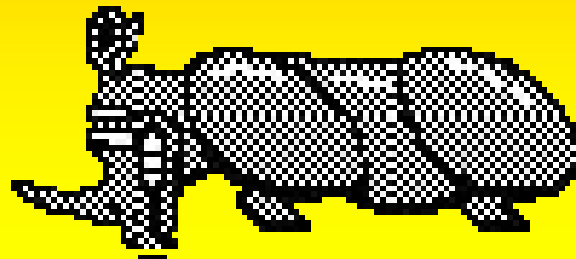

Once there was a monster named Dracula. He lived in a castle. The castle was creepy.

Dracula lived in a haunted castle. The floor creaks. The windows eat. And the door never opens.

Then a kid came. Not a scared kid a brave kid who wasn't scared of anything. The monster felt good.

Then the boy took a room. Dracula called the hand. The hand came in the room and went and said, "I am the bloody hand." And the boy ran and ran all the way home.
