

COMMON CROWS

The common crows beak is long and black. The common crow is black. It's wings are black too. They can fly high in the sky.

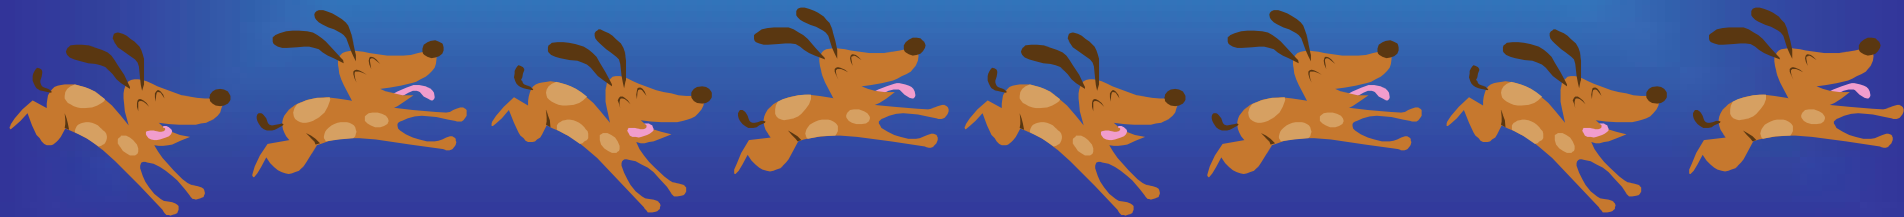

A habitat is a place where a bird lives. The common crow lives in the woods, farm land, and near water. It can have a nest in a tree too.

Copyright © Mike Barker

The common crow eats little animals.
They also eat vegetables. It lays 4 to 6 greenish spotted eggs.

It can be seen in Canada and the United States. It makes a loud CAW sound that is easy to imitate. Common Crow is a cool name for a bird.

