

Cactus Wren

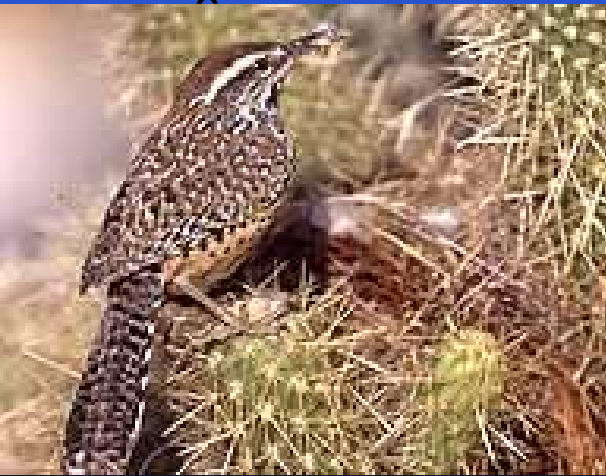

It has polka dots under it's belly. It has stripes on it's head and a long beak.

The cactus wren lives in the desert and on dry hill sides. It builds it's nest in a cactus or thorny bush. Nest is football shaped and made of straw. It has a side entrance.

It eats insects and spiders. It lays 4 to 7 eggs that are pink and spotted brown.

It makes a harsh cha , cha , cha , cha sound . It can be seen in Arizona and Mexico. It has a medium size curved dark gray bill.

Cactus Wren

