

ROADRUNNER

This bird is 20 to 24 inches tall. It has a long tail. It has a little bit white on its tail. It has feathers on its head.

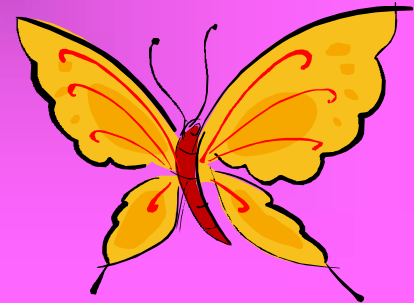

The roadrunner lives in open country, deserts and dry bush. Its nest is built in a shallow saucer in a bush.

It eats insects and reptiles. It lays 3 to 8 white eggs.

ARIZONA

The roadrunner can be found in the southwestern U.S. and Arizona. It makes a pigeon-like cooing sound. It has a long curved black and white bill.

Arizona Rocks

