

Tuatara

The tuatara looks like a lizard but it's not. It's the only member of its class. The tuatara is in danger of becoming extinct.

The tuataras habitat is in burrows that have been made by sea birds. And other kinds of stuff like that.

The tuatara eats earth worms, insects and some small lizards and other stuff.

The tuatara lays hard shell eggs that take over 1 year to hatch. The tuatara can live up to 120 years.
