

Madagascar Hissing Cockroach

The Madagascar hissing cockroach's run and hiss in a very creepy way. Hissing is also part of the cockroach's mating ritual.

Cockroach's can eat a large carrot in a single day. The Madagascar hissing cockroach is a type of bug and it's diet is a herbivore.

These cockroaches are shiny brown and oval shaped with no wings and not a single pair of antlers.

And that is all the creepy facts that I studied. The Madagascar hissing cockroach is so creepy and disgusting.