

Black Mamba

I studied the black mamba snake. I think it is creepy because it is poisonous to people and other kinds of little creatures. It is also creepy because they have sharp fangs. Also what's creepy is that they have a freaky Mohawk on the top of their head.

A black mamba is potentially dangerous. If you have contact with these snakes you could die. They don't have any special conservation status.

Black mambas are so fast they can get you. That's why I think black mambas are creepy creatures.
